

Carolyn King

Carolyn King works as an Executive Assistant for PACE Juvenile Center where she also does computer software training for the community. Prior to working for PACE, Carolyn worked for Norwest Bank for over 25 years providing technical support and teaching Microsoft software to the end user. Dr. King is a licensed ordained minister and has a Bachelor of Science Degree from Drake University, Master of Theology from Andersonville Theological Seminary and a Doctorate of Pastoral Theology. She is the Founder of FLOministries, a technical ministry enabling people to use the software on their computers. Dr. King has extensive community outreach and currently hosts "He Keeps Doing Great Things", Mediacom 17, Thurs. 8-9pm and Sat. 10:30-11:30am. Dr. King is a professor at Kingsway Christian College & Theological Seminary; she is also a professional speaker and singer.

Carolyn has 3 children: McCeil (Jock) Johnson, a lawyer; Kelli King, an Educator and William Cannon, a licensed funeral director and Pastor.